Project Summary

Despite the many studies and practices that we have looked at in employment rates in the Turkish IT sector, these ratios lag far behind developed countries. While this area is above the EU average of 4%, this figure has not yet reached the 1% limit for our country. By the end of 2015, 55% of the workforce in the European Union information and communication technology sector is employed in the software sector. The number of people employed in the software sector is 6.1 million, which is about 5% each year. The rates are much higher for countries like the US, Japan, and South Korea, which are the most developed countries in the industry.

Targets set for the sector in the Turkish Software Sector Strategy and Action Plan prepared by the Ministry of Science Industry and Technology are;

- 1: Enhancing National Consciousness and Strengthening Infrastructure
- 2: Making Legal and Administrative Regulations
- 3: Developing a Qualified Human Resource
- 4: Increasing International Competitiveness

A social approach to achieving these goals is possible with the support and responsibilities of the relevant institutions.

The goal of the project ; children and young people in the early years of coding training in the regional and national sense of the software sector to grow and contribute to increase the rate of employment in Turkey. Within the framework of this purpose;

- To train as 200 young CodorDojo mentors from 7 regions of Turkey (give children the ability to train codes and build local workshops)
- To reach the capacity to organize workshops that will enable children to teach code in less than 30 different cities
- In the first year following the project, 5000 children must write the first code and participate in the coding workshop
- To transfer the best practice sample from experienced mentors to the international field and strengthen local practices by transferring this experience to 200 gentlemen
- To take part in policy-making by participating first hand in policy making by bringing decision-makers, youth representatives, sector representatives, non-governmental organizations and universities, which guide the information sector in Turkey,
- To create the "Draft Plan of Turkey Child and Young Code Training Practice Advisory" and produce a concrete output on behalf of policy production and follow up main objectives.

Our project, which includes the achievements and practices that intersect with the goals of the Erasmus + Program and the Structured Dialogue Projects, the development policies and objectives of the EU and Turkey have emerged as the end result and will be passed on as a successful experiential best practice model throughout the world.

Project Summary

Especially the unemployment of university graduates is one of the important problems of Turkey. Data show that the employment rate is higher for university graduate young population. The fact that the young seem inexperienced compared to other labour age groups and that they are unable to compensate this inexperience with the current information and skills they obtained from their education are among the most important obstacles for them. Policies for increasing the employment of the young, with the participation of public employment authorities all shareholders in local and national level, can not be developed. It is necessary to form dialogues between the young and public employment authorities, non-governmental organizations operating in young employment and universities and career centers. As Sarıyer Municipality, together with Governorship of Istanbul we will develop a structured dialogues between local authorities, universities and career centers of universities, provincial municipality and district municipality youth assemblies, non-governmental organizations operating in the youth field, and young people between the ages of 18-30 from the career centers of universities and we will form a young employment strategy applicable in Istanbul. Project will initially provide inclusion of the young into the process, and will provide the basis for procurement of preliminary studies for creating directly young-oriented active employment policies such as the effective cooperation between authorities, labour market training programs, direct employment programs, informing and employment services. The general target of the project, together with the support of Governorship of Istanbul, is to establish Lifelong Education Centers which will contribute to the integration of the young into a successful labour market after the cooperation of university and the young in the body of local administrations, and support the development of basic skills and artistic and sportive skills such as information and communication technologies, foreign language, financial literacy, problem solving, critical thinking, communication, leadership, career planning and job hunting where entrepreneurship training will be organized and which will provide guidance and counselling services for the young to establish their own business.

Project Summary

Şanlıurfa GAP region in particular, which was established based on the GAP Youth Association, an association that his network is a network in Turkey with the study. We run our activities with young people between the ages of 18 and 30. We are an accredited organization in Eurodesk Contact Point and European Voluntary Service. We conduct our association activities in our office allocated by Şanlıurfa Municipality. We are carrying out our activities in the region with our unifying feature as a roof that young people have in common of differences.

Poverty is a difficult concept to define because of its complex structure with economic, social and political dimensions, and there is no single definition of poverty that is agreed upon. Generally speaking, poverty is defined as a situation in which the living standards of society are below a specified level. However, the scope of poverty varies depending on the differences in the place of establishment and the level of turnover prosperity in the period. In this respect, for example, there are significant differences between persons who are considered poor in different countries.

We have seen that poverty is not enough to be considered in the economic dimension and that the most important problem in our day is poverty but social poverty among young people. There is a need for politics so that a socially poor youth grows up and this youth is directed correctly and effectively. We will work together in the process of our project by cooperating with Eurodesk Contact Points and Regional Development Administration. For each region in the 7 geographical regions of our country (Şanlıurfa Konya, Giresun, İzmir, İstanbul, Erzurum and Antalya), 14 participants in the age range of 18-30 years made a regional meeting with 98 participants and talked with the young people whom we selected as the applications. We have primarily created regional definitions of youth's social poverty. After each region created the definition of social poverty, we made a summit with 100 participants from 7 regions between 17 and 21 January 2018 ..

Within the scope of our Social Poverty Project, we made it possible for your youth to meet with decision-makers directly and communicate their wishes to them. In the scope of our project, we have gathered the thoughts of the young people we have not met for 5 hours by entering the country agenda by organizing an event with the social #Social Poverty Hashtag through the social media to get the thoughts of the young people we have not reached within the scope of the project.

While we participated in the regional workshops, we opened our website www.sosyalyoksulluk.com and got the applications online via the internet. We wanted our young people to come together with their differences. For this, we identified our participants in the direction of young people's approaches to social poverty project and their answers.

The young people who come together with their differences discussed the concept of social poverty which they discussed in 7 different geographical regions with the participation of 81 young people in Konya at the Social Poverty Summit. At the Summit on Social Poverty, young people welcomed their guests with the slogan "To listen, not to talk, but to listen" while meeting with decision-makers. Within the scope of the project, we prepared a paper with the participation of 81 young people. This statement has been turned into a campaign to be presented to the signatures of other young people of our country as a broad text that includes what youth think about what they think about social poverty and what measures are expected to be taken.

One of the main objectives of the project was to establish an organization to combat social poverty, the greatest risk of the age, and to draw up an action plan for the development of policies and policies for combating social poverty on an institutional basis. Within this scope, we propose the establishment of the General Directorate of Social Poverty or Department within the Ministry of Family and Social Policy.

We propose solutions to the social loneliness of the youth we have always blamed for our project, namely social poverty, together with young people. Grand National Assembly of Turkey within the scope of our project Agriculture, Forestry and Rural Affairs Commission Presidency and the Ministry of Development Administration KOP we conducted in cooperation with the process. Our goal was to raise a policy document and to raise our thoughts about what could be done to contribute to the development process of our country, not to our youth, which is not always complacent. While the young people who did not know each other came together with their differences, we carried out the entire process of our project with our coordination team of 18 people.

Project Summary

Public Diplomacy activities of the countries have gained different dimensions today. Aside of carrying out diplomacy works on official basis various activities addressing to public opinion have come to light. The situation in our country is not different. Various activities have been carried out either by the state or by the NGOs and media organizations to be able to adapt to the necessities of today's world, promote our country correctly at international level and constitute a positive image abroad. Among the examples to these activities the works of organisations like TİKA, YTB, Yunus Emre Institute, Public Diplomacy Coordinatorship and international broadcasting TV channels like TRT World can be listed. However there is no clear evidence about to what extent the young people participated in these works, to what extent they directed the works they joined and to what extent they took part in the decision making phase of these works. At this point we prepared this project for the young people who produce international projects, take active part in the projects and for those who have ideas to direct public diplomacy activities, to them into decision making processes, to be able to draw them a pathway and to provide them a setting where they can share their authentic ideas with the decision makers. Our aim in this project was to introduce the concept of public diplomacy to young people, to make them produce suggestions that can direct diplomacy works with their innovative and authentic ideas and to help them share their ideas with the decision makers. For these purposes we organized workshops in 7 geographical regions of Turkey with the help of our project partners and to each workshop 20 young people participated. At the end of 3-day workshops youngsters prepared reports and after that we organized a summit in Kastamonu with 35 participants from 7 regions to evaluate the regional workshop reports and to prepare a general report. As a result we prepared our final report to share with decision makers. We selected participants among youngsters who are between the ages of 17 and 30 and from those who are studying at international affairs or related departments of universities or from those who take active part in international projects. The young people who gathered in regional workshops share their ideas about the concept of public diplomacy, how to contribute to diplomacy works with the help of international projects, the faults in public diplomacy works and good examples. Moreover, the participant speakers who are experienced in the field of diplomacy and the academicians working in the related departments shared their experience with the young people in regional workshops. By preparing reports after each regional workshop youngsters revealed the deficiencies in public diplomacy works, their suggestions to solve them and the public diplomacy subjects that can be added to projects. After the end of 7 regional workshop regional workshop reports were evaluated and a common final report was prepared in the summit. The most important effect of this project is young participants' learning the concept of public diplomacy, their realizing that they have unintentionally carried out diplomacy activities in the projects they created or took part and their understanding of how to continue carrying out these activities in a systematical way.

In the project the young people from different regions and cities shared their ideas by reflecting their own point of views to the subject and thus they acquired the characteristic of working together.

On the other hand regional workshop reports and summit report will be printed as a book to be shared with official institutions dealing with public diplomacy works and the steps will be taken towards the diplomacy works in which more young people are included and the ideas of young people are asked.

Project Summary

The main starting point of our project which we would like to carry out as a part of “Informatic Summit in Bursa” is to make young people to learn to be productive rather than being an individual who is always using technology and to increase knowledge and skills in this topic and to conference about technology with the help of the workshops. This summit will help them to have an idea and be productive about the future of technology by gathering young people from 81 cities of Turkey together. As a supporting organization of the young's education, we consider that a informatic summit in Bursa where there are more disadvantageous youngs will meet the needs of knowledge and employment and help their individual and social developments. In addition to this, the issues such as improving and bringing technology and social media literacy to the fore in Bursa, using technology more consciously and seeing the contribution of technology to the employment will be the important targets of our project. The main targets of our project:- To improve and bring technology literacy to the fore-to teach to be productive in the field of informatics and helping increase knowledge and skills in this issue-To help young people coming from different religions to knit up and by gathering them together and to learn new things from each other.-To include young people from disadvantageous religions in social activities in different environment- To make young people to see their opinion, view statement and gain self-confidence with the workshops which they will do.- to help them to improve their own organization skills-To spread science culture by gathering the works in the field of science which young people in Turkey made together in a informatic summit which we will organize in Bursa-Providing a new point of view to the youngs and parents with the participation of professional speakers who are expert on main categories such as informatic summit for youngs, education, security and technology.

Project Summary

The "Variable Education" project, which was designed in the framework of creating ideas for solving a basic education problem of our country and forming public opinion, was realized in Ankara within a period of four months. A five-day seminar organization was organized under the project.

Conference and workshops were organized. Young people and specialists have shared with each other the negative consequences of the constant change of the education system. They have produced ideas for the establishment of a permanent education system.

It has been determined that the reason for the constant change of the education system is due to political power, populist political approach and staffing. The ideas produced for a permanent education system are:

- . A worldwide education system needs to be investigated and reported
- . Country resources and needs should be determined
- . When it is necessary to be objective in the selection of personnel and manager
- . The conclusion that the educational system should be structured according to scientific and contemporary requirements has been reached.

The project was carried out using the personal and institutional relationships of the Association's management.

Participatory youth consists of young, unemployed and working youth who are between the ages of 16 and 30. 41 of them are female participating youths and 59 of them are male. ver 100 young people participated in the activities and workshops.

We see that the project will have a long-term impact on training accountants and politicians through participatory acquisitions, information visits and information communication systems.

Project Summary

As Development and Innovation Office our purpose is to contribute to development of our country by supporting with projects which produce creative solutions for sustainable development. This development should be human-centered in every area. Turkey, which is economically 17th country in the world, take place near the bottom in the world in respect to health and safety of worker. Consequently it barely mentions about a development with human-centered. The conflict big economy / low safety of worker compose the source of our project. We, who are student, young and unemployed in today, will be the workers, people in charge, managers and decision-makers in the future. As young people who want to contribute to development of our country so our own future, we want to draw a perspective of development with human-centered. So we aim to take responsibility, to have a voice about subjects related our country and us, to create a change and development by sharing our ideas with decision-makers. We will draw attention on work safety with the project, and we will tell again how it does and may cause troubles to public opinion and present our solution offers. Our project will bring together young people and decision-makers as collaterally with main principles of structured dialogue, will provide to show a wholistic approach to solution of social problems, will provide to take common steps to develop the society individuals, came from different places of the society, live in and will invite young people to active citizenship by giving them responsibilities. Beside our project is focused on young people in a way that comforted with principles of structured dialogue. 95% of individuals who will participate in our projects are between 18-25 ages. In the main reason of several work accidents again these people take place. In our country which child labor is unbelievably high, there are hundred of thousands workers who work without insurance in order to earn their own life. In our country, which is the 3rd in the frequency of work accidents, it is not hard to estimate that thousands of young people without any insurance are exposed to work accident. It is crucial that young people, who will be workers, in charge and taskmasters in the future, should be informed about this matter, take responsibility and make decision-makers to be active. The word "crucial" in here unfortunately has an abstract meaning for our country in which we lose thousands of people in work accidents in every year. Again our project is closely concerned including young people. Half of young people who will participate to our project from all cities of Turkey are socially disadvantaged young people. These young people will be the ones who are unemployed, work without insurance or have an experience their previous job, they or their relatives are exposed to work accident and volunteer about this matter. Our project "21. Century and Work Accidents – What Do Young People Think?", prepared based on all these units, will produce basically human-centered solutions about work safety and health of workers which cause to lose our thousands of people in every year and anomalously increasing in the last century which we are proud to getting developed, and will be actualized as a project which contribute to produce solution offers by including young people. 150 young people from all quarters of Turkey, decision-makers, experts, educators and representatives of non-governmental organization will participate to our summit which will last 5 days. It will be actualized in 18-23 June in Bursa.

Project Summary

The International Session of the European Youth Parliament in İzmir (IS İzmir) brought together 240 young participants from 26 European countries, including local youth from Turkey. Additional partners from 5 other countries were included, but were not a formal part of this Erasmus+ project, their participation was funded by other partners. The project showed the impact that an event like this can have on its participants, as well as on their direct and indirect environment.

During eight working days between 17th and 26th of April 2015, the event created a unique parliamentary simulation for the young delegates to work together, learn from each other, and experience parliamentary democracy first hand. It offered them a unique experience to directly engage with decision-makers and experts. The participants were divided into fifteen international working groups to discuss a current European topic each and to draft a resolution by formulating their own ideas. They also received input and were in dialogue with experts and politicians during this process. The resolutions were then debated in a two-day General Assembly, simulating the real European Parliament, but giving the participants the opportunity to express their own opinions. Additionally, the International Session included a series of cultural events promoting intercultural exchange and dialogue and celebrating Europe's rich cultural diversity.

By participating in IS İzmir, the young participants went through a non-formal as well as informal learning experience aimed at the promotion of European citizenship, active participation, democratic procedures and values and intercultural dialogue. Within the project, we wish to encourage young people to actively participate in discussions currently on the political agenda as well as to learn new skills through working in international multi-cultural teams on challenging political topics.

The event is an entirely youth driven project, organised by voluntary active young people aged between 18 and 26. EYP Turkey hosted the event and was supported by a steering group of four close partners. A bigger group of sending partners selected participants from in total 26 countries to İzmir.

Project Summary

According to the research implemented by Turkish Grand National Assembly Human Rights Research Commission, "54% of the members of the terrorist organization are in the 14-25 age group, 34% are in the 26-34 age group and 12% are in the 35-38 age group." The distribution of the members of the separatist terror organization according to their educational status is that 39% is primary school, 16% is high school, 13% is junior high school graduate, 12% is literate, 11% is college graduate and 9% is illiterate. When this data is evaluated, shows that the young people in the age group of 14 to 25, so to say high school and university age, are the biggest targets of the terrorist organizations operating in our country. In the lights of the research implemented, the main target group of the terrorist organizations are the young people and implementing activities for the young people in the field of active citizenship education and social inclusion will decrease their participation to terrorist organizations and hinder the terrorist groups to include them to their bodies.

Within our project, with the regional activities in Van and Diyarbakır, we will work with youth and youth workers about democracy, active citizenship, non-violent communication and social responsibility topics in three days and afterwards, we will implement a national workshop with 100 people and the young people will find out solutions related to problems they faced and they will create policy suggestions related to social peace in all over Turkey.

Aims of the project;

- To find out common solutions with creating a meeting environment for young people from Southeastern and Eastern Anatolia regions and all over Turkey
- To support the social adaptation of young people in Turkey
- To create a base of peace among young people and in long run to contribute to the violent extremism and radicalization
- To contribute to the social dialogue among young people with promoting their active citizenship

Project participants, in regional seminars will be the young people (aged 18-30) and youth workers from Southeastern and Eastern Anatolia regions and in national workshop will be the young people (aged 18-30) and youth workers, public organizations' representatives. In total, there will be 150 beneficiaries of the project and 136 of them will be the young people.

Regional seminars will be implemented in Van (04-06 May 2018) and Diyarbakır (11-13 May 2018) and National workshop will be implemented in Diyarbakır (21-24 June 2018). In national workshop, the public organizations, NGOs and youth workers will participate and work on the social integration and peace topic. In regional seminars and national workshop will be based on non-formal education methodologies.

Within our project, in long run we expect the young people to reduce the participation to the terror activities and increase the social integration and preventing the radicalization. Meanwhile, we expect from National Ministry of Education, Family and Social Policies Ministry, Youth and Sport Ministry to create programs for young people in the region and put priority on prevention of terrorism and radicalization via Education in the region. Besides that, with national workshop, we expect the young people to change the public discourse and contribute to the social dialogue in all over Turkey.

Project Summary

Researches on work life of artists put forward that most of the artists do not work in full time basis, they have been mostly observed to work in flexible, fragmented periods and works with no definite time of start and end. While this situation enables flexibility, this also brings various disadvantages such as low level of income and less income guarantee. Basic characteristics of this type of employment are flexibility, multiple-company career, voluntary and involuntary work shifts, inequality in fees and additional extra payments, continual educational life, job search in personal networks, self-performance in professional strategy and marketing, limited marketing power in workplace, employment with no guarantee and stress. It is significant to increase the employment opportunities for young artists in the field of creative employment and provide innovative solutions for the problems they might encounter. When considered from this point of view, employees working in film sector are intensively composed of young persons. Inclusion of the youth in the sector is handled as a cheap labor force. Within the scope of the project, employment policies are based upon and considered in cultural and artistic perspective for youth. Youth and Entrepreneurship, Youth Employment Opportunities, Youth Employment Policies and Legislations were examined and policy-makers were enabled to meet youth and contribute to their learning process. Great value was constituted through developing policy suggestions in order to improve the personal rights/benefits of youth who have significant and essential economic added value in the field of culture and art. It was aimed to increase the level of knowledge, wisdom, information and awareness, to enable the youth to question and think, which helped us to realize our sub-targets. In the summit we carried out within the frame of our project, students studying in the department of Radio and Television, Cinema, Film Sector, students with active roles in non-profit government organizations, totally 80 youth including 34 women and 46 men took part in the project. Action plan was prepared in order to announce the policy suggestions developed by the youth participating in the project with large mass. Firstly, press meeting was organized as a result of the activity. Suggestions developed in the activity were published in the project website, shared in social media and mail groups. Policy suggestions of the youth were sent to policy-makers who did not participate in the project through mail. Communication strategy was determined in order to write a letter regarding the employment results. Thanks to the summit, cooperation network was created in order to increase the integration of the Employment Policies in the field of Culture and Arts to the social life in Turkey. Due to this, collective activities were commended in order to increase the participation of the youth in culture and art. At the end of the project, mail list was created for the continual communication of the participants and contact information was shared with the permission of the participants.

With the help of the summit, participants carried out studies regarding developing new polices after making analysis of current situation with worldwide perspective in the Employment Policies in the Field of Culture and Art in Turkey. Therefore, they felt the sense to be responsible and beneficial for themselves and society. Our foundation director works as a columnist in national newspaper. This helped the dissemination of the project, use of social media tools, attracting the attention of public. She wrote two times before the project activity after project activity in the newspaper. Project was disseminated in the national press channels. Within this frame, in the process of declaration and rote and strategy map, relevant public bodies and non-government organizations shared. Project results were shared with Ministry of Culture and Tourism, Ministry of European Union, Labor and Social Security, Beyoğlu Municipality, Directorate of Culture and Tourism, Istanbul Directorate of Culture and Tourism, Istanbul Governorship and Istanbul Metropolitan Municipality. Our project became successful in national level and we plan to write K2 project with the demands of our participants and speakers.

During the project, in addition to written contents, public research data collected through "Citizens Media" tools was the most effective to affect the project results. Participants of the regional trainings interviewed the local citizens on the themes covered in the three-day trainings. It is the utmost importance to have prepared a policy paper emphasizing the significance of "Youth Information" through using "Citizens Media" tools and public research data on the themes referred in the European Union Youth Strategy Paper".

Young participants who were well-informed about Erasmus+ Programme and Eurodesk opportunities during the regional trainings developed their own youth projects on various themes covered in the activities and they have already taken some actions to realize their project in near future. This project seeded a lot of new projects. Furthermore, the youth with disadvantages had the chance to learn of opportunities in Europe, and they have taken part in mobilities abroad thanks to connections they had during this project.

31 provinces (out of 81) were represented in the project, about 20 videos were produced, more than 1000 photos taken, more than 250 social media contents were shared, and in total about 2000000 individuals were accessed through the project results.

Project Summary

Youth unemployment continues to be a big problem in our country and all over the world. If we need to give an example for the importance of this subject; while the rate of unemployment appears with single digit, youth unemployment seems with two digits and it doubles as normal unemployment. On the other hand production sector from which is expected to play an important role in the development of our country complains about not finding qualified personnel. In other words there is nonequilibrium and discrepancy between supply and demand in the labor market especially for the youth.

We think that vocational training will play a big role in the solution of youth unemployment. Pi Youth Association believing in the necessity of vocational training's popularization and its partners have come together again for the project Genç Bak-İŞ 2. We have taken the opportunity for determining major obstacles against the youth's tending to vocational training with the survey studies within the scope of our project Genç Bak-İŞ carried out previously. One of the most important obstacles is not to inform the youth adequately and accurately on vocational training. Thereupon we research what is needed for the youth's having better guidance service on this subject. Especially for the youth who is at the parting of the ways to get involved in vocational training. From 81 provinces 81 leaders, who are active in civil society works will attend and our project comprises of 3 regional meetings and 1 national summit. All meetings of the project will take place in İzmir, field activities and survey studies will be carried out in 81 provinces.

The participants will gain opportunity of getting necessary information and experiences in the field works and survey studies with regional meetings. At the same time they will meet up with decision makers in the national summit, analyze the results of field works and create policy offer text for the problem we are in solution seeking. Popular learning methods will be used and team work, roleplay, workshop and panel discussion etc. will involve in.

During our project, it is aimed that creating awareness on the subject "the importance& necessity of vocational training" through campaigns and activities carried out both in the field and online. The outputs of project will be shared accessibly with all public, private and civil society representatives and institutions.

Project Summary

The aim of the project, which is planned to last for one year, is to develop an alternative participatory process that could create a common design product which seeks each actor's benefit by creating a negotiation environment where all possible actors of the transformation processes are recognised. The project comprises of 4 phases which are: 'the preparation' phase in which the materials that will be used throughout the project are produced and the students that will support the project are selected; ' the events ' phase in which the activities within the scope of the project will be organized; ' the visibility events ' phase in which the operation and the outcomes of the project will be presented by the steering group and be discussed with the professionals and ' the report production ' phase in which the result are compiled and documented. While the preparation and the report production phases will be held by steering group, the events phase will be carried out under the leadership of steering group with the participation of the representatives of the institutions and organizations which act as decision makers in transformation processes and the local community which is directly affected by the transformation. (TOKI [Mass Housing Administration] , Çankaya Municipality, Ankara Development Agency, 100.Yıl Neighborhood Initiative, Çiğdemim Neighborhood Associationi, Mukhtar) The visibility events phase on the other hand aims to attendance of the professionals from relevant institutions and organizations in order them to indicate their ideas about project to get feedback from them about the project. The events within the scope of the project are mainly the introduction and the advertisement (announcement/declaration) of the project; The exploration and analysis of the work field; goal prioritization of the design to be made; the identification of the strategies that would enable achievement of the goals; the production and implementation of the game in line with the collected data from previous activities; the close-up meeting where the process and the outcomes of the project will be exhibited and discussed and the evaluation meeting. The conceptual framework of our project is created with V Process Model. V Process model is used for defining process starting from a broad perspective and focusing on more specific action steps gradually. Within this context, in order to gather information about the recent situation of 100.Yıl Neighbourhood and for increasing the awareness of participants, our project is starting with and photo walk event. Gathered information in that stage is going to create an input for goal setting event to settin up a design game in last stage and strategy identification event. Apart from that model, our project is also supported by non-formal education techniques like brainstorming, buzz sessions, simulation, role playing and the like. Platform, provided through the project, fulfills a duty as a bridge between young participants and decision makers, and make young participants to gain competence of being an individual in society, forming their identity and developing the sense of belonging, identifying of their own needs and defending the rights for their needs. Apart from young participants, adults and actors who involve in the current process of urban transformation in the country are the ones who will take advantage of the project. The major effect that will be created, when collaborative and participatory urban transformation process is monitored, is going to be that young people and actors who are not entitled in present process will be able to see in most concrete way that how they can have important and active role in shaping the environment if the opportunity is given. Designed project and methods are intended to create those effects. In a long-term perspective, we are planning to provide the multiplying effect and sustainability of this effect, again through young people. Throughout the Project, young people are going to play an active role in every stage of project, in case of a repetition in other municipality boundaries is requested, skilled young people will transfer their knowledge and experience to new young participants of project. So that even if those who left the project, study is going to be carried out effectively.

Topics Disabilities - special needs ; Access for disadvantaged ; Reaching the policy level/dialogue with decision makers

Project Summary

People with mental disabilities are among Turkey's most vulnerable groups. General discrimination and stigmatization in society and inadequate policies and services leave them socially excluded and leave without access to essential services. Only 20% of mentally disabled individuals in Turkey have access to a number of treatment modalities. Many are deprived of basic human rights, such as housing, employment and social security, and thus remain dependent on others to determine their future. Conditions are significantly worse for people coming from disadvantaged communities, such as children and women of families in low socio-economic status. The fact that there are only eight hospitals in the country and the inadequacy of the capacities, some of the biggest ones, host more than 15,000 patients per year and host an average of 500 outpatient clinics per day.

Another proven fact of this situation is the Disability Statistics Survey conducted by the Turkish Statistical Institute. According to the survey, 77% of the registered disabled persons have improved health services, 40.4% have improved and expanded their care services, 28.7% have increased their employment opportunities, 25.6% Of the respondents stated that they are expecting from public institutions and organizations to make arrangements about physical environment and transportation facilities. If the research is thought to have been carried out in 2010, it is important that the research data should be updated in the last year and the disability services and policies are shaped according to the needs of disabled people, especially young disabled people.

The disability policy to be implemented within the framework of the Public-NGO-Private Sector Dialogue will contribute to the needs of the disabled people and the development of the policies mainstreaming the needs of disabled people.

Aims of the Project:

- To Ensure that the National Disability Policy is addressed to the needs of the disabled
- To contribute to the shaping of disability policies on the axis of development by gathering local, regional and national focused outputs
- To enhance the quality of services for disabled people by establishing a bridge between public-NGO-Private Sector
- To increase the participation of people with disabilities in economic, social and cultural contexts and increase the visibility of disabled people in decision making mechanisms
- To inform disabled people about the disability rights

The participants who are going to participate in the project are disabled young people aged 18-30, the employees of public, private and NGO sector which are providing services for the disabled people. 204 people (180 persons with disabilities) to local meetings and 80 people (40 people with disabilities) will attend the national meeting of the project.

Project activities will take place in cities of 12 regions of the Turkey Statistics Regional Unit Classification (NUTS regions) (Edirne, Istanbul, Izmir, Eskişehir, Kayseri, Adana, Ankara, Samsun, Trabzon, Erzurum, Elazığ and Diyarbakir) and will be implemented with 15 disabled people. One expert on disabled pedagogy and 1 trainer will be present in every meeting. All meetings will be based on non-formal education methods and round table meetings will be carried out where the disabled people can reflect their needs and interests.

The output of these activities will be shared in Elazığ at the national summit to be held in December 2018. In order to have an impact on national and international contexts, "Disabled Youth Policy of Turkey" , "Being Disabled and Youth in Turkey Research” outputs will be shared to contribute to the policy making processes related to disability policies in Turkey. In the long run, it is expected that the project will contribute to increase of the quality services provided by NGOs and the policy making processes for disabled people.

Project Summary

The last stop in the history of economic production models of societies is defined as the fourth industrial revolution, Industry 4.0. Industry 4.0 leads to the future of intelligent manufacturing economics by way of digital transformation. Intelligent robots that will work in production and distribution processes, artificial intelligence systems to be used in R & D, sales marketing and management processes and internet objects that will enable them to exchange information with the outside world and all these intelligent systems will work together harmoniously. A team of designers, software developers and practitioners with skills is required.

With industry 4.0, modular intelligent factories are aimed at tracking physical processes with cyber-physical systems, creating a virtual copy of the physical world, and making decentralized decisions. The Internet of objects and cyber-physical systems will be able to communicate in real time with each other and with people in cooperation.

With industry 4.0, you will have the advantages of facilitating system monitoring and diagnostics, self-awareness of systems and components, sustainability of the system through environmentally friendly and resource-saving behaviours, higher productivity, increased flexibility in production, cost reduction and development of new service and business models.

It is estimated that by 2020, approximately 50 billion devices will be in communication with each other. It is anticipated that intelligent production systems will result in smart city, home, logistics, network, device components merging with social networks and e-commerce networks will affect about 46 percent of global trade volume over the next quarter of a century in ecosystem networks, where services, objects and individuals will use the Internet environment.

It is expected that 2.3 million unit robots will be used in the industry in 2018. It is stated that the developments in robotics in particular trigger the formation of intelligent production systems in the production sector.

With intelligent production systems, it is aimed to produce specialized, smart production, improved production quality, less error production, less waste, localized manufacturing processes, faster innovation processes and less resource use that respond more and more quickly to customer preferences and needs.

It is also the basis of Industry 4.0, which is defined as the "fourth" industrial revolution, which means that value chains in the manufacturing industry, especially in the smart factories, are optimized in terms of customized solutions, flexibility, efficiency and cost.

On the other hand, in 2020, the European Union has adopted the objective of moving the industry's gross domestic product share from 20 percent to 15 percent of the current situation.

The European Commission is investigating how the Fourth Industrial Revolution transformed industrial production, logistics and consumption models. Prepared action plan; Digitalization, cyber-physical systems, internet of objects, large data, cloud computing, robotics systems and artificial intelligence.

In this direction, four different workshops will be held for young people in order to adapt to the developing technology with Career 4.0 project.

The Digital Professions Workshop for young people who have not made a choice of tertiary education between the ages of 13 and 17, the Entrepreneurship and Employment Workshop for young people who have experienced the difficulties of employment and entrepreneurship between the ages of 13-30, a vocational specialization at higher education or basic education level. A Second Occupations Workshop will be held for young people who have experienced the difficulties or advantages of having earned but not being trained in the labour force market. In addition, a Structured Dialogue Meeting on Employment and Entrepreneurship Policies will be held to bring together young people and decision-makers.

Through these workshops, employment and entrepreneurship policies in accordance with Industry 4.0 will be discussed with youth decision-makers

New employment opportunities will be explored by young people in Industry 4.0. New digital capabilities will be discovered.

Project Summary

Unemployment, today, has become not only the problem of particular countries but also has become one of the basic problems of the world. Global problem of unemployment has been mentioned worldwide. Youngsters are those who have been negatively effected by the results of unemployment. The main reasons of the youth unemployment can be defined as follows: lack of education at the age of 15-29, difficulty in finding new job areas, lack of experience, youth not satisfying the needs of the labor market. Apart from the lack of education among youngsters, although the problems mentioned above seem possible to be solved by providing new policies, it is clear that there is not much done to solve them. By the way, it will be realistic to mention again that the youngsters are the ones who have been negatively effected by the results of unemployment. According to the 2015 datas of OECD, in Turkey 31.25 percent of the youngsters at the age of 15-29 neither participates in the education system nor in the labor market. This means, one third of the youth population is either unemployed or non-educated. The average of OECD is % 15,49. With the rate of %31.25, Turkey is in the last line among 33 of OECD countries. If Turkey do not take the necessary precautions to increase the youth employment in the near future, it will be wise to say that critical social and economic problems will occur in the country. Consequently, in 2015 TÜİK (Association of Turkish Statistics) has declared the rate of youth unemployment in Edirne as % 11,3. Because unemployment rate is high in our province, we need to handle that problem. With project activities, local decision-makers and youngsters will be brought together and meetings, symposium, workshops, career planning and career days will be organized. Besides, youngsters will visit the institutions and firms which are in the labor market. Thus, they will be informed about how to reach the labor market within equal opportunities and how to benefit the labor market. While implementing all these activities, local decision-makers will be activated to make primary employment policies. A survey will be done to 500 youngsters which will aim to explore the education level of the youngsters in the province, their social, economic and cultural background, and also the rate of the youth involving in the labor market. By taking account of outcomes of the survey and national and global employment policies, "Document of Sustainable Youth Employment Policy" will be prepared. This document will be shared with all stakeholders, public bodies, NGO's in the field of youth and institutions in the labor market. By supporting young entrepreneurship in this project, it has been planned to contribute to reduce the unemployment rate to the rate of developed countries. In the symposium, a debate will be organized between local decision-makers and youngsters. The needs of the youth will be negotiated in the symposium and it is supposed that necessary regulations and precautions will be taken by the authorities after the symposium. Workshop on Youth Unemployment will provide an opportunity to the youngsters to express their needs in the field of labor market and to share and exchange their ideas. Career days will also be helpful for youngsters to learn how to select suitable jobs for themselves. Summary of 6 major activities in the project: 1-Opening meeting of the project 2-A symposium " Employment in Turkey and problems of youth employment" 3-Visit to institutions in the labor market 4-Workshop on "Youth Unemployment" 5-Career days 6-Presentation of " Document of Sustainable Youth Employment Policy" and evaluation meeting These activities will be implemented by 40 youngsters (20 male, 20 female, at the age of 18-30) with the assistance of Governorship of Edirne EU and Foreign Affairs department. The 40 young participants of the project will be selected from the Youth Center of Edirne (Eurodesk Contact Point) in the first month of the project. The criteria for the selection of young participants is as follows: student or graduated from high school or university, efficient in the team work, eager to work voluntary, needs social inclusion, care about EU and its principles. During the activities of the project, ice-break activities and team building activities will be organized, non-formal learning techniques and efficient communication strategies will be used. The main goals of the project-by holding meetings with youngsters and local decision-makers- are to increase ability, entrepreneurship and employment rate of the youth, to contribute to update youth education and to focus on the needs of youth in the labor market. Our project will encourage to develop co-operation between the institutions working in the field of youth to reach common policy objectives in European level. Our project is associated with European Union Youth Policy which aims to provide much more equal opportunities to youngsters in the field of education and employment and support active participation in society

Project Summary

Explore Your Potential 18-years is Too Late

As a result of the Referendum and its approval by over 51% in April 16th in Turkey, the election age was reduced to 18. In the course of 9 months, we plan to implement a 4-stage project by providing 118 young participants from all over Turkey. The fact that the electoral law will change in our country and it will ensure that the high school youth not interested in election and political issues is more actively involved in the process and brought together with policy makers. High school students, who are so far away from politics, need to be developed to be involved in active politics. With the change of the presidential system and the parliamentary system, we will see the current parliamentary structure for another 2 years. For this reason, all young people from the age of 16 must be able to reach the target mass of our project. We will be able to contribute to the process of developing policy reforms in our country, carry out a series of activities that will raise awareness of young people with innovative practices and contribute to European policy instruments in practice. Within the scope of the project, young people have come together with policy makers in Istanbul for 4 days to learn how to get involved in education, to express their problems, to benefit from experience (free chair), to enter into dialogue with peers from different cultures, to discuss ideas in the team and to contribute to policy making processes and they will return to their cities with these gains. In their own school, young people who will perform a local activity will be given various duties. High school youth who fulfill these tasks successfully will have the opportunity to visit the Turkish Grand National Assembly, Ministries and other policy makers in Ankara. For the sustainability of the project, the E Assembly Youth Portal will be established and the emotions, thoughts and recommendations of the young people will continue to be shared with policy makers through this portal. A book will be published for dissemination of project results. Emphasis will be placed on benefiting disadvantaged young people from the geographical and economic aspects of the project activities.

Project Summary

The working and service areas of municipalities serving as local governments in our country are quite broad. The target group of our municipalities which are obliged to provide services to the environment, road asphalt, transportation, fire brigade, water and sewerage health, culture and many other areas, are people living in all province borders. All municipalities are working to serve all citizens from all ages without discriminating anybody. Before these studies are undertaken, a strategic plan is prepared for those studies and each department prescribes its strategy in relation to the services and activities to be carried out in its field.

This plan sets out the time and number targets for the services that the department heads will provide. This applies not only to local governments but also to all institutions. While preparing strategic plans, realistic and feasible values, which can be controlled, should be used. The values given in relation to the services to be provided and the subjects mentioned vary with the age and position. Local governments prepare their strategic plans and work on areas of service within their own budget.

Our country is a developing country with a young population and a star that shines every passing day. Our young people are engaged in different studies to develop themselves and gain new experiences. In many social, cultural, artistic, sporting and scientific fields, they are willing to develop and express themselves in the possibilities that they live in. Our young people, who meet something new every day in the context of developing technology and renewed possibilities, benefit from the possibilities offered to them in the way they live.

However, in our country, local governments plan the services they will perform and the activities they will carry out, not the opinions of young people in the activities aimed at young people. What are the expectations of the young people living there, what are the young people using the services of the municipalities or what are the younger activities of the municipalities are all pending questions. However, activities planned will benefit more people if their expectations are known and done. From this point of view, our project goal is to organize regional meetings in seven regions, to transfer opinions to local government representatives by taking different opinions in different regions, and to contribute to making new arrangements for young people's expectations while preparing strategic plans. When the municipalities plan the services they offer, young people will be able to get more efficiency from the services they will do by meeting with them in a common pavilion by dialogue with them according to their expectations.

At the same time, the number of people benefiting from the services provided will increase and we will work with more willingness. Our project activities are planned with our targets and our partners. At meetings with our partners and supporting institutions, it was agreed that young people's communication with the development of policy-making social dialogue and communication with decision-making mechanisms would be stronger and that it overlaps with the priorities of the European Union.

The project with seven partner youth associations, which we have identified in seven different regions, to be attended by young people and local government representatives. In these meetings, active participants engaged in social, cultural, artistic and scientific fields living in the 18-30 age range who are invited to establish dialogue with local authorities and to determine their expectations from local authorities and to include them in strategic plans, is intended to contribute.

Participants who will be determined based on the application system will be informed in advance so that they can make preparations before they arrive at the meeting. At the end of the project, a summit will be held where the results of all regional meetings will be discussed and young people living in different places meet to seek common solutions to each other's wishes and expectations.

In terms of our project, it gives long term result. although not fully observed during the project period, the effect that young people will have on achieving their activities in the local governments will create a sustainable policy for the awareness and excitement to be created among the local governments and young people within the project duration. In addition, regional meetings and surveys before and after the summit will reveal the created awareness.

Project Summary

In the recent period the youth employment has been getting a growing problem day by day both in Turkey and in Europe and labor market complains about not finding qualified personnel who has vocational and technical training. In other words there is nonequilibrium and discrepancy between supply and demand in the labor market. When we get to the root of the problem, the necessity of youth-oriented policy-making shows up for getting popular of vocational training and qualified it. The fact that this policy offer must be determined based on the youth's opinions is a right step. The participants who are representatives of civil society organizations from 81 provinces of Turkey will be informed about employment and vocational training with regional meetings arranging into 3 groups. At the same time they meet each other and acquaint themselves with creating campaign and developing policy offer. Later they will carry out a survey between young people, who are 18- 30 years old, in their region and receive their opinion. In pursuit of it, the representatives will meet up in a national summit and work on creating a written source being related to determination and offers, which will be presented by representatives, about this subject. Afterwards project participants will organize a campaign in regard to take support of other section of society in order to compose necessary policy reforms about the context of this written source. At the same time they will be fallowers of this project and inform decision makers, society. In this manner they will take the necessary steps together to carry into effect our offers. All of 81 young people, who will come from 81 provinces, will come together with 3 regional meetings in 27- person groups and they will negotiate for creating our written source "Relation Vocational Training and Employment with the Youth's Viewpoint", which will be essential output of our project in the national summit. Teamwork, workshop, discussion, question and answer etc. popular learning methods will be used and a survey administration, which will reach 3900 young people throughout Turkey, is in the plan phase. Project Summary

The volunteers at Turkish Red Crescent Izmir Branch ensure active participation of the youth in community through the activities at local level for youth which they do in accordance with the principles of Red Crescent. Through these activities based on voluntariness; young people gain self-confidence, develop their initiative and improve their skills on decision-making. Besides these, trainings given by Izmir Branch help young people raise awareness on volunteerism and emphasize the importance of working voluntarily both for their cities and for humanity. Before you start working voluntarily, you first fill up an application form and you put a cross (X) as answers to questions. This project implies that young people putting "X" in the application form make a change starting from themselves to cities they live in, and from the community to humanity. This project implies that this letter "X" as being the start and means of the change makes an ELIXIR effect. So the project is named as "IXIR". In the project which will be carried out in Izmir for a year, our project team will gather 30 young people from all around Turkey and inform them about volunteerism, youth works, Erasmus+ and European opportunities and also will raise their awareness on disadvantageousness, being a citizen and active citizenship. These 30 participants will have a chance to attend seminars and workshops with ministry representatives and city managers. Also Macedonian Red Cross Skopje Branch at the invitation of Turkish Red Crescent Izmir Branch will present their project related to the topic. After all of these activities, it is desired to raise 30 Youth Workers. In the European Youth Week; seminars, information and evaluation sessions will be held by using non-formal education methods. Then the participants will be asked to disseminate this information when they go back to their cities. After the participants get all these trainings, they will do activities and provide trainings in their cities as YOUTH WORKERS.

Project Summary

Our project out of the way we prepare, dayanmaktadır.yerel Agenda 21 program, the Local Agenda 21 program is conducive to the establishment of the Youth Parliament in 1992 in Rio de Janeiro, which is an output of the realization of the United Nations Earth Summit in Jeneiro "Agenda 21" accepted by the Member States with the understanding encountered in order to develop effective solutions to the problems it was decided to be converted into policy and program to give more responsibility to local governments. Following the Summit, the decision is supported by various programs being implemented in more than 140 countries.

City Council, Youth Council, Women's Council as governance mechanisms, with our present understanding of the country envisages the public to participate in city government, but the Ministry of Interior since 1997, the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), the Association of United Cities and Local Governments (UCLG-MEWA), World Local Authorities and Academy of democracy (WALD) have been implemented in partnership with Turkey under the Local Agenda 21 program.

Continuing up to the present insights emerging from the 1997 LA-21 City Council in 2005, 5393 Municipal Law Article 76 which has earned its place in the legal basis. City Council, Women's Council and the Youth Council as participants create structures by the Ministry of Interior and published in the Official Gazette on 08.10.2006 entered into force 06.06.2009 "City Council Regulation" have been identified. Youth Councils, one of these participatory structures, training programs realized since 1997, have become important local stakeholders to the city with activities such as advocacy campaigns. However, these participatory structures of democratic local governance mechanisms as needed to function, to show the importance to the issue of local government is unable to perform fully the objectives of formation of reasons such as the vaccination of some obstacles in the bureaucratic structures of public institutions.

In the meetings held with participants from the developing process of Youth Councils, the institutionalization of youth councils and conducting activities to establish a joint network has indicated that policy makers need. We prepared 'Strengthening the Youth Council in Turkey and Youth Councils Network Creation' project aims at strengthening the institutional structure of the youth council in increasing awareness and young people in local and national, we aim to create the mechanisms to carry out voluntary work.

In meetings held to date from the establishment phase of the youth council difficulties and solutions will be discussed. Youth councils in Turkey, Istanbul, thinking a separate area for eight (8) separating the different regions, in all of these areas coordination meeting will be held. Coordination meetings of the youth councils in the region to assess the current difficulties, to strengthen their connection with each other and we will remove the roadmap that will provide the ground for the creation of sustainable building. After performing all of our meetings in the region at the national youth councils, decision-makers and the process will be found on the corporate domination; We aim to create a roadmap peak output received by the youth council. We plan to make several meetings with decision makers in this process. Unless Although regional meetings so far have been found to contribute and also already in the process of handling and decision-making authority, we plan to organize joint workshops with decision makers involved.

Areas and in meeting national; The problems of youth councils, coordination difficulties, local authorities, youth council members will talk with the workshop of the solutions to the problems in the legal entity to increase the efficiency, sustainable projects, leadership and lobbying training will be held. Things to workshop their work, we aim to remove the road map of the youth council with the youth council representatives.

'Empowerment of Youth Councils and Youth Councils Network Formation in Turkey' Youth Assembly representatives in the project will provide regional coordination in the implementation of the project and will be found to be dominant in the project board as long as the youth council.

Participants at the regional and national meetings working in youth councils, youth councils will be elected from among the managers responsible for local governments. The meeting will be paid to gender equality.

Youth Council will be established in Turkey will have to do with a culture of joint action and to allow the strengthening of the existing structure of the youth council. Our goal in all of our projects in our country finally gained when three thousand (3000) touched our young people, youth councils of the target programming together with our young, we have created the joint project.

Project Summary

In today's World, one of the most important factors for creating welfare societies is, an economic system which prioritizes sustainability and creates added value. The high employment rate is quite essential in this system since it is very hard to talk about development in a society which is full of unemployed individuals. Unemployment which causes a lot of social and psychologic problems is one of the biggest issues that World is confronted. Unfortunately there are millions of people who suffer from this issue in Turkey. Besides unemployment rate has risen to %12, young employment is over %20 because of global economic recession in last years in Turkey. A top priority for Turkey to get rid of this situation which economists call "middle-income trap" is the transition to value added economy. At this point, one of the most important way to create new employment alternatives; developing an innovative approach that can create different employment fields and put it into practice. Based on this issue, GEO carried out a project named "Green Light to Employment" to share its vision and develop an alternative employment concept in April,2016. The primary output that we obtained on the national scale within the project is the decision for preparing Sustainable Development Based Young Employment Improvement Plan which participants, speaker, trainers, decision maker and stakeholders agree on. Thus, our project's purpose is; revealing new and alternative employment possibilities by promoting the transition to a green economy which contributes sustainable development. We aim to examine global good practices and transfer them in this regard. As a result of this, we will build a draft "Sustainable Development Based Young Employment Improvement Plan" that serves to this aim with a large participation point of view including academicians, NGO representatives, private sector representatives, veterans, decision makers and Youngs. We will carry out International Green Employment Summit-IGES Project with totally 180 young and decision maker participants from Turkey, Germany, Greece, and Lithuania for five days in Alanya.

Project Summary

The aim of this youth and employment thematic İŞte GENÇ (Youth in Employment) project is to create a forum for a structured dialogue between disadvantaged young people and decision-makers in the field of employment through 3 day workshops and a summit which helped them to learn about vocational training opportunities, labour market, youth guarantee, and entrepreneurship as well as local, regional, national employment policies and also help them to improve their social skills. The target group of the project is 40 young people; 24 of which is disadvantaged; from districts of İzmir which are considered less-developed (Kınık, Beydağ, Bayındır) also disabled young people, ex-inmate (on probation), youth having migration background are considered as disadvantaged even if they live in central districts of İzmir.

All project partners are actively involved in the field of youth and employment. İzmir Governorship is the coordinator; İzmir Metropolitan Municipality, İzmir Union of Chambers of Tradesmen and Craftsmen (İESOB), Turkish Employment Agency (İŞKUR) Konak Branch, and a youth NGO Genç İşi Cooperative are partners.

The aim of our project is in line with the European Commission's Work Programme and "social inclusion of the young people and improving the welfare of the youth, especially the projects aimed to fight against youth unemployment" priority is addressed.

The 40 young participants of this structured dialogue project İŞte GENÇ were to take part in a field research which involved face-to-face interviews with at least 10 disadvantaged young people each in their local Districts. In these interviews, young project participants collected the views and suggestions of their peers to share them with decision-makers during the "İŞte GENÇ Summit". The target was achieved, there were 514 interviews in the end.

On 09.03.2016, "İŞte GENÇ Summit" took place; a day-long conference where decision-makers in the field of employment and young people got together and discussed the issues. At the end of this summit "Sustainable Youth Employment" policy recommendation document has been prepared.

Although this is a national level project, its target groups, aims and its activities and expected results are in line with the priorities of the Europe 2020 Strategy and Strategic Framework for European cooperation in education and training (ET2020) as well as European Youth Strategy. There are two main objectives of the European Youth Strategy which covers the 2010-2018 period: To provide more and equal opportunities for young people in education and the job market and to encourage young people to actively participate in society.

İŞte GENÇ project is developed in order to examine the youth unemployment problem which is a big issue in İzmir, through structured dialogue where young people get together and discuss in workshops first and then meet with decision-makers in a youth employment summit. The summit creates a forum for discussion and exchange of views between young people and decision-makers in the field of employment.

The main activities of the project were:

1. Preparation: Project coordination meetings, workshop and summit preparation arrangements as well as selection of the young participants and procurement of necessary services.
2. Workshops: Three day workshop held in January 2015 with the participation of 40 young people 24 of which were disadvantaged.
3. Field Research: The 40 young participants conducted a field research in their local Districts and reached 514 young people in total.
4. İŞte GENÇ Summit: 1 day summit was a forum for discussion and exchange of views between young people and decision-makers in the field of employment. There were 100 participants.

5. Visibility and dissemination: Online tools, printed media and press opportunities were used as dissemination tools.

6. Monitoring, Evaluation and Reporting: Partners met regularly and evaluated the project developments. Effective budget control was maintained by the coordinator.

The most important gain of young people is that their involvement in the forum where they met their disadvantaged peers, exchange views, freely express themselves and communicate with decision-makers who are willing to listen and value their opinions and suggestions. In terms of policy-makers the most important gain was; to be able to get together with disadvantaged young people from different districts of İzmir and to be able to listen their problems and suggestions from first hand.

İşte GENÇ project contributed not only to the young people who took part in the project but also other young people living in the city. The intellectual output “Sustainable Youth Employment” policy recommendation document, presents the project and its activities, also evaluates the current opportunities regarding employment as well as involves the ideas, opinions and recommendations of young people.

Project Summary

If we look at the Youth Policy in the European countries which has been released to ensure active participation of young people in Democratic life and Promoting is one of the essential titles and again, that ratio has close to zero for young people in decision-making in Europe is also an indisputable fact .Young people who can not take part in decision-making mechanism do not believe in the decisions taken on behalf of themselves are sincere. From this point in our project we keep our young people together with decision makers in order to produce solutions, to discuss the causes of the problem and to allow them to take a more active role in the policy produced for themselves.

Accordingly, main aim of our project 'Youth in Parliament' designed by European Union Office of Balıkesir Governorate is to make a contribution towards increasing youth's representation rate in both national assemblies and the European Parliament, and realistically realising tens of youth policies which have been prepared until now. We believe that giving our youth the right to speak, and asking for their opinion in shaping the future are their basic rights.

A total of 59 youngsters, 51 from 17 different countries, and 14 from our country; and a total of 30 decision-makers from Private Sector, and Non-governmental Organisations, participated in our project. Mainly Non-Formal Education Methods were used during our 9-days-long activities which will take place in Balıkesir - Ayvalık Cunda Haliç Park Hotel. As a part of our activities starting from Wednesday, the youngsters will get prepared for meetings with decision-makers during two days after they meet with each other. Before the meetings, the youngsters will share with other participants the youth policies in their countries, young people's participation in democratic life together with statistical data and good practices; all together they will decide on their expectations, strategic suggestions, solution proposals, and topics and priorities to be discussed in the meetings; thus they will have the opportunity to meet decision-makers on Friday. Moreover, formal opening of our project is going to be on Friday. Open Space Technology Method was used in the meetings between decision-makers and youngsters starting from Friday afternoon. This method, which enables shared decision making in especially crowded meetings, also ensures that all participants take responsibility. After the meetings and the prepared reports, workshops will begin; then declarations to be presented to the European Parliament, National Assemblies, Non-Governmental Organisations and Private Sector will be prepared. These declarations and a leaflet explaining our project activities will be compiled in a book by our Project Team; and this will be presented to the European Parliament, Non-Governmental Organisations, Private Sector Representatives, Grand National Assembly of Turkey, and assemblies of our partner institutions. Boat Tour, International Night, and Traditional Turkish Night which will be held within the scope of social activities will contribute to intercultural learning process, and will give an opportunity to our guests to get to know our country's natural beauties and our traditions.

Our close objectives are; to have been drawn attention to youths' zero proportion of representing themselves in parliaments by decision-makers , Private Sector and NGO representatives at the end of the project , to make the Youth Council work more active and to reduce the average age in the city council at the local level . And in the long term; to ensure the allocation to under the age of 30 at least a slice of 10% in all assemblies of the European Union and in our own parliament . In this way, the ideas of the youth will be taken by the authorities that make decisions on behalf of young people.

Both locally and abroad will make the promotion and dissemination activities with the (proceedings of the Parliament reasearch and to the AP submission, the partners themselves councils to offer , etc.) of our young people will be the voice that we hope decision-makers will reach and thus our young people loaded " FUTURE " mission " present day , our ' mission shall be accompanied by .

Project Summary

According to a research which covers the world in 2014 by UN Economic and Social Development Agency, the biggest problem of young people around the world is unemployment. This situation is also presented in our country by regular researches made by TSI (Turkish Statistical Institute). While general unemployment rates are about 10 %, this situation is around 18-20 % for young people. The word "rate" is deliberately used in here. Decision makers, policy makers, csos representatives, experts and academicians in our country constantly use the word "rate" while talking about this matter. But, unfortunately, it is not adequately discussed about how young people socially and psychologically are, which difficulties they encounter in their life, to what extent unemployment affects their life and what should be made about it which those are "generally" essentials of these rates, and solutions are not offered. All of these causes that hundreds of thousands people, who are hopeless for future, "unhappily" spend their life. As an association which is full of and founded by young people, we are directly affected from "unemployment" problem like all young people in our country. Until today some of hundreds of little/big projects related to young unemployment which were run by public institutes, civil society organizations, universities and private sectors have been successful and an important part has been ended up with failure. By force of 21st century necessity of innovative approach, different perspective and creating alternatives comes front in all projects. Success possibility of projects, which are run in this way, is much higher that it is seen by researches. As GEO – Global Environment Organization we support this approach and set our all projects in the base of this three trivets. From this point of view, we created the project named "Green Light for Employment" in order to produce alternative about young unemployment in our country, to provide different employment areas for young people, and to provide a leadership for growth and development with respect to nature by depending these employment areas, which will be created, on the base of sustainable development. Our aims in the project are; to create new employment areas for young people in order to reduce young unemployment in our country, and to create new alternative for young people in the employment area by meeting young people with "green career" concept which is rapidly increasing and we will see a bigger employment area. 100 unemployed young people, decision makers, academicians, csos leaders from different places of our country will attend the project which we organize as Global Environment Organization – GEO and will be implemented between 10-16 October in Kusadasi, Aydin where is a city which is the leading one in the area of Green Employment of Turkey.

Project Summary

Young people generally learn many incidents those might effect them or the society they live in just from social media and react with the same they learn; with social media. Sometimes they just do not react. In a worse case; due to the unsuccessful attempt/reaction they had before, they are being leaded to in a desperate position or anger. So their reactions could easily result like the ones happened in Istanbul Gezi and Artvin HES protests. On the other hand decision makers could easily temp to take tougher precautions just because they observe every reaction with a potential to lead an illegal attempt. As a result, a case which might be resulted in a peaceful way with a structured dialog could end up as a mess. This process inevitably lead young people and youth organizations to hopelessness, anger, irritation and distrust. The other side of the table also go to in a mood of suspicion and neglectful. Because the decision makers generally temp to evaluate the cases they face firstly how it is being presented. In that point, the presentation is more important than the case being presented due to their perception.

With our project we have aimed to pass on these qualifications to young people and youth organziations;

- to learn the incidents from the right sources
- after learning the case deeply, to investigate all alternative methods (from local to national level) to deal with the case
- how to develop a strategy
- to create a structured and sustainable dialog with the other side.

As a result of the project, we also aimed that; the decision makers should see that every initiative they face is not just an opposition, it could also be a reflection of right, tasks and responsibilities of being a citizen.

Within the project we had two different seminars in two different cities in Turkey, by reaching almost 140 participants. In the seminars we discussed and worked on;

- basic concepts of the field
- developing a strategy
- best practices and two case studies

At the end of our seminars we aimed to create a structured dialog (which we have all legal basis in Turkey) between the sides.

Project Summary

Unemployment is one of the biggest economical and social problems on the earth and the group most effected by this problem is the youth. As a matter of fact, the biggest source of worry of the youth is the future and related unemployment concerns. We have selected the Mediterranean and Southeastern Regions specifically that lives this problem closely.

We aim to carry out a field application within the framework of structured dialogue with strategy of movement from local to national by discussing youth unemployment and future concerns with the submission of the proposals with a solution to these problems. Diyarbakır Businesswomen Association and Turkish Entrepreneurship and Business Life Confederation, will be our supporters during our many strategic work in this project.

As for the general framework, our project has three stages in total. Firstly, a survey study will be carried out with 400 young people who are university students at this religions who will answer the survey with the help of academicians, also university students and newly graduated people who will answer the survey online. In light of the survey results, the second stage will be held as strategic plan meetings for two days in both Adana and Gaizantep, with people ages 18-30 who will be youth leaders that are members of decision making groups (student clubs, student councils, student associations), current university students and newly graduated youth employees. The meetings will be organised for these 3 groups seperately. In the strategic plan meetings, 204 young people will meet up in total and discussion platforms will be created. These 156 young people will consist of four participants for each three seperated groups (youth leaders, current university students and newly graduated youth employees) from each major city both in the Mediterranean and Southeastern Regions. The ones in the Meditarrenean Region will get together in Adana. The ones in the Souteastern Region will get together in Adana. Lastly, a three-day Summit of Outcome will be organised with the outputs that will be comprised during focus group meetings. The Summit will take place in Adana with 96 young people from 17 different cities (all cities in the Mediterranean and Southeastern Regions) and the representatives from mechanisms of decision making (university representations, provincial employment board representation, chamber of industry representations, trade association representations) will join.

The Summit of Outcome aims to form a strategic policy document towards reducing youth unemployment and avoiding future concerns of the youth so as to submit the strategic policy document to the mechanisms of decision making. Also, increasing motivation among youth so that they will look to the future with more confidence is the goal because raising awareness about the need of target planning concerning the future will have been provided among youths as a result of the project.

Project Summary

Participation of youth to policy-making processes has long been a discussion around whole Europe since it is not possible to talk about democracy in its modern sense without involving all stakeholders of the public. Participation to policy-making works best at local level since access is the easiest and citizens feel direct effect so they can see immediate result of their contribution. In some European Union member states, participation rate for the young people is relatively higher because of well developed local administration structures, whereas it is very low in Turkey, a candidate state. This can be associated with the strong statist tradition which does not leave a lot to discuss at the local level. However, this started to change with EU membership process and young people also show interest in participating.

This project starts from the question of what needs to be done in Turkey to raise the awareness in young people from Turkey about participating, providing a ground for both young people and policy makers to come together and discuss the existing need of creating spaces for young people to engage and to build a dialogue and strong partnerships from other European institutions so that outcomes will be sustainable and possibly be multiplied with other future projects.

For this aim the project will cover 5-days of an international meeting hosted by Genç Hayat Foundation in İstanbul/Turkey on September 2014. British Youth National Agency will be the partner of the project, since UK is a country that is known with its democratic culture and can be the best example for Turkey with their already existing, 13 years long application called Hear by Right. It is a standards framework that NYA is applying for institutions working with children and young people to evaluate themselves in terms of their level of participating young people to their decision-making processes. NYA will give training to 30 young people between the ages of 15-18 and policy makers both from Turkey and UK which will cover the identification of Hear by Right application with the positive and negative elements and experiences, discussions on what has been done in the field both in Turkey and in UK and possible future application of Hear by Right framework of Turkey with the stakeholders from different levels.

Main activities of program are first the preparation process which will be highly participatory for all stakeholders of the project since the very idea of the project is to support participation. Training will then take place in İstanbul with participants from UK and will cover informative and open discussion sessions as well as case studies and role playing games. Non-formal education methods will be used during this training. A reflection paper will be prepared by an expert from Genç Hayat Foundation who will contribute with the experiences of the Foundation in Turkey during the training. This paper will then be distributed to stakeholders from Turkey and UK and all other possible stakeholders of EU. Project quality management and reporting will be checked during whole process and will be the main activity to be carried out in order to avoid a possible problem for the project.

One concrete result will be the reflection paper prepared by Genç Hayat Foundation with information that will be gained from the project. The impact of this paper will be highly important for Turkey since a lot of stakeholders will benefit from an application of a similar framework to Turkey in the long run. For policy-makers it will mean meeting the need coming from young people while enhancing democracy which is also supported by the EU itself. Other impact in line with the program objectives are improving the key competencies for young people with working on their interpersonal communication skills both with national and an international groups while promoting their self-awareness about their roles in a democratic life. This will boost social inclusion and active citizenship of the young people since they will internalize their place in the public they are living in and the ways to solve their problems or get their voices heard. One more impact is building cooperation in the field of youth work between different organizations and stakeholders to have an international network for these strong institutions and promoting Structured Dialogue program among organizations with a well-organized dissemination process.

The long term benefits in line with the impact and results will be an application of a Hear by Right-like standards framework in Turkey which will increase the awareness way more in the country and creation of similar projects for both institutions and young people and policy-makers engaged in project will be another long term benefit of this project and the dissemination process online and by PR Agency that Genç Hayat Foundation is working with will make sure the visibility of the project easing the way for the sustainability of it

Project Summary

The main concern of our project is child brides..We will discuss pedophilia, adolescent fertility, how to avoid early marriage and pregnancy, and reproductive and mental health of teenagers and youths, and we will try to make a consensus regarding legal arrangements..Our starting point is the data obtained from World Health Organization..Accordingly, it is stated that worldwide 16 million young women, between the ages of 15-19, have given birth and this number composes 11 percent of all births..Our priority is to avoid early marriage and the pregnancy in childhood, the size of early marriages and is to determine radical solutions regarding this subject in Turkey. Police records show that every one of each three marriages is a child marriage; more than one of these girls that has been married off are second wives, one thousand and three hundred marriages have been performed every year and one hundred thousand of these are child marriages, marriage age has been decreased to 12 and Turkey takes a place among the first ten countries in the world regarding child marriage..Thereby, at this point, early marriage appears as a problem, which avoids the usage of human rights, decreases the woman statue and takes children?s fundamental rights especially education. In this case, this sort of marriage is a concern that should be up against in Turkey, where gender mainstreaming is aimed for. Project admits meeting 500 participants and final solution as priority. In the project 450 teens (300 girls, 150 boys), 10 Limited Teens and 40 companions will take place. Teens will be brought to ETU Meeting Room from their schools by private buses and after meeting they will be taken back to their schools. For the Project documentary film will be prepared, and visual theme will be featured with poster, brochure, gazette and billboard. A questionnaire study, outputs of them and their print as a book will also be ready? After all with broad participated press conference, the results will be shared to public opinion? With this Project, while concerning ??Child Brides??, application points involving legal arrangements, increase in the rate of school girls, improvement of programs in socio-cultural factors, notification of adolescents and teenagers about sexual health will be created. Youngsters, who will be donated with formal training method and education, will be helpful on the issues especially in fighting with poverty, gender equality and changing traditional feudal structure? The Project also contributes to remove the disagreements between civil law, criminal law and children protection law? A social reflexion will be created with the help of politicians, bureaucrats, business world, trades, local pres and citizens.

Project Summary

After the establishment of the Republic of Turkey, some of people living in the Balkans have emigrated to Turkey with population exchange. However, migration movement continues increasingly in our country its inception until today. With migration from Balkans, our country has an internal migration from east to west also. In 1927, %75 of our population lived in rural areas, today this ratio is exactly reversed. Rapid population and diversity leads to some problems in our cities receiving immigration. Social, economic, education, language, health and housing problems are main problems.

For this problem, so far there has not been any comprehensive study. With this project, we aim to make a policy for the solution of problems faced by young immigrants.

In our project we have two fundamental activity. The first of these is 4 times "Focus Group Meeting" which will be placed with the 22 young participants in from intensive migration of the cities Adana, Bursa, Eskişehir and İzmir. The young immigrants will analyze and propose solutions for their problems with these four 3-day meeting. The second activity of our project is "Policy Dialogue Meeting" that will be placed in Adana with 60 young participants. At this meeting will take 3 days and the data obtained from "Focus Group Meeting"s will be discussed and an inclusive policy will be created with decision makers.

The learning methods will be used in all of activities of our project. Thus, the youth can be a team faster, they can express themselves more in a comfortable way, propose solutions together on common problems and active participation of each young person will be provided.

Each activity will be reported and formed a results book. These books which the source to reflect young migrants will be shared with civil society organizations, public institutions and decision makers printed and online.

Project Summary

Main objective of this project was to come together with the young citizens from different provinces of Turkey and decision makers who have studies about democracy. After a 3-days workshop (10-11-12 April 2015) a democracy evaluation report is created.

Participants were invited from each city of Turkey covering young citizens who are interested in democracy. So, besides measuring recent developments in Turkey's democracy, regional differences were highlighted as well. Thus a relationship between participants was established and a cultural sharing platform was created. Also participants got knowledge how to evaluate democracy of a country where they live.

During workshop, firstly decision makers shared their experience about 7 democratic evaluation topics, which are determined based on the Methodology of IDEA, which is an international research organisation. After these sessions, small teams studied their specific sub-topic about 2 hours and they shared their findings (i.e Turkey's development in recent year, comparison with other countries, the ongoing projects and studies, etc.) with short presentations. During these preparations, the participants used the OECD, Worldbank, Eurostat data sources in order to prepare assessment reports and they learnt how to reach data about these kinds of studies. Before workshops, we arranged 3 hours training about accessing data from these sources.

These 7 sessions which decision-makers shared their knowledge and experience with young people are:

- o Access to Basic Civil Rights
- o The Rule of Law and Access to Justice
- o Evaluation of Civil and Political Rights
- o Evaluation of Economic and Social Rights
- o Role of Media in Democratic Society
- o Role of Local Governments, Civil Society, Public Opinion
- o International Democratic Relations

Since our association is very active in social media, actively followed on www.demokrasidenetcileri.org site, and it has 17.000 followers on @denetciler twitter address, it was quite easy to announce project and outcomes. Presentations were uploaded daily to the website, announced via twitter, and all material are available for target groups and third parties. These materials are sample for each who is planning to study on similar contents. In this context, we are planning to develop more comprehensive projects on democratic evaluation with the existing partnerships that we have developed for the upcoming project from the past, and that will be established during the project stage.

With completing the evaluation report, young citizens learnt how to follow democratic progresses in a comparative and scientific way. So that we expect more projects about democracy by these youth platforms.
