Project Summary

Current Situation:

Marital discord has a negative impact on young people. As a result, the number of individuals who are unsuccessful in all aspects of society, increases, those young people experience same kind of discord in their future family that they founded in their adulthood and they may become psychologically unhealthy persons who fail to adapt the social life around them. There are various factors that cause marital discord to affect young people negatively. Family is the first social environment for children where they develop their emotions/reactions and where they shape their future accordingly. The feelings and behaviors which children observe from their parents during their development create a framework of their emotional life. In particular, the family life is so important in terms of children's socio-psychological development during the period when their personality is started to shape.

According to the researches about marital discord, one of the main negative results on children is adaptation and behavioral problems. Also, in one of the researches, problem solving skills of children were scored by researchers and the scores of the children who grew up in steady family life were higher than the ones who grew up in a marital conflict. This result shows that the parent who cannot solve their own problems cannot be a role model on solving problems. Furthermore, research results suggest that the children grew up in marital discord try to solve the problems they face in daily life by escaping from the problem or by using violence (*Atmaca).

Increase in the percentage of divorce in recent years is an indication of an increase in the number of children who face the problems mentioned. According to Turkey Statistical Institute (TSI), the number of divorce, which is 91,022 in 2004, surged to 125,305 in 10 years with 38% percent increase. The research of TSI shows that marital discord takes place on the top of the causes of divorce with 96.70% (** Gönülta?, 2014).

Objectives:

The project prepared by the non-formal youth group Alltogether has following overall and specific objectives;

Overall Objective: To contribute the decrease in number of psychologically unhealthy young people who suffer from a lack of adaptation to social life.

Specific objective: Within 10 days, to contribute the decrease in negative effects on 20 young people who witnessed marital discord by making them aware of the negative impacts of their family related experiences on their social life and by providing a closed social environment to make them develop their social relationships.

Participants:

- 20 young people (10 female and 10 male) who witnessed marital discord from 4 countries (Turkey, Azerbaijan, Italy and Romania).

Profile of participants:

- 18-25 years old
- With an official document to prove that their parents were divorced (for participants outside Turkey)
- 4 people; 2 male and 2 female and a group leader from each organization

Activities:

A1. Dealing with social-psychological issues: The main activity which will be supported by sub-activities that will make participants learn their rights, express themselves, share their own experiences with the peers suffering from the same problem and strengthen the relationship with their family and social surroundings.

A2. Healing: The main activity that aims to make participants have a habit of using the healing effects of art, sport and nature.

Methodology:

Non-formal education-based methodology will be used. Interactive workshops, group works, learning tools are the methodologies to be used in non-formal education activities.

Impact:

R1. Participants increased their knowledge about their rights, found an opportunity to express themselves in different ways such as art and photography, developed their relationship with their families and social surroundings and had a chance to share their experiences with the ones who suffer from the same problems.

R2. Participants got aware of the healing effects of art, sport and nature and got a habit of using these healing effects in everyday life.

Output:

O1. Participants were trained about youth rights.

O2. Paintings made during workshops, photos taken during walking and sightseeing, participation documents

Long-term benefits:

Young people who are in the same situation with participants of this project will be able to get help or to share their experience by using the networks created by the project participants and the partners. Also, these young people will be supported to get a habit of using the healing effect of art, sport and nature. It is also possible to create new projects with the same topic via the networks built during the project. All the project results will contribute the decrease in negatives effects of marital discord on young people. As a result, they are expected to become active young people who know their rights and who are able to solve the problems they face.

Project Summary

Culture is the lifestyle of a society. It is the whole of products that humanbeings socially passed down to coming generations. This whole consists of all kinds of concrete and abstract products such as language, thinking, tradition, institutions, law, art pieces. Each country minds their own culture and creates the necessary structures for its preservation, development and transfer to future generations.

As time passes, the demand for hand woven products decreases. Our sense of art changes together with our lifestyle. With the impact of the wave that was started by the Industrial Revolution, hand work lost its battle against industrial productions long time ago. This defeat also causes the extinction of some cultural objects.

In our Flying Carpet Project, the aim is not to let our hand weaving culture fly away and to help it continue its historical journey. Reminding of our weaving culture and transferring it to rising generations are targeted.

For this purpose, the participants will first learn how to weave a rug. An "Europe Rug" will be created bringing all woven rugs together. Besides weaving, with cultural workshops that are will be carried out, the participants will get to know each other's cultures more closely and will develop their senses of tolerance and understanding.

Our project is going to take place with 42 participants from six different countries. They are going to learn to be together, share, and coordinate with different cultures for ten days besides all the preparation and dissemination works. Prejudice and exlusion will be prevented with multicultural activities.

Project Summary

Everyday we read news about the environmental and climate developments threatening the natural sports' fields of activity. The most inaccessible and eminent natural areas of Turkey and Europe polluting by natural sportsmen, is cleaning by the natural sportsmen again. However these initiatives are not sufficient nor effectual. As the Climbing Community of University of Recep Tayyip Erdoğan, we prepared this project for making a contribution to awareness-raising on environmental issues among natural sportsmen and to new initiatives fighting against environmental damages.

This project will be conducted in partnership with ASD Free Climbing Palermo from Italy which is a youth sports club. Each partner will participate to the project with eight youngs from 18 to 27 ages and two monitors. Participants will be chosen among those who are familiar with advanced climbing techniques. They will also be the ones who are experiencing economical difficulties. Our project named "Clean Mountains" will last three months and we envisage a seven-day mobility between 14-20 October 2015. The host will be our Italian partner.

During the mobility, the young participants who are interested in natural sports will come together and do awareness-raising activities on environmental issues by organizing thematic discussions, workshops, role play games and cultural activities. By doing this, they will be aware of the damages caused by sportsmen and they will try to find the possible prevention strategies. An experience and know-how exchange between the participants will also take place during seven days. They will share their ideas and suggestions with relevant institutions to spread the results of their work. This sharing will make the Erasmus+ Program's scope expanding sport and environment known by more youth organizations working on these areas.

Since the participants will be chosen among the ones who have low socio-economic conditions, the youngs who can not find the chance to travel abroad and to know different cultures and countries, will have an inter-cultural learning experience. Partner organizations will increase capacity on organizing international activities as well as the young participants and this will help them in their future EU project applications. The fact that the projects and partnerships increase and vary in this way, will let Turkey's and European countries' young people who lives in less developed regions, know better Europe and its neighbours both socially and culturally.

Project Summary

The ears have features of perception about certain voices. Being incapable of hearing is called "hearing loss". This hearing loss causes speech and hearing block. Millions of people who have hearing loss are living in Turkey. The number of hearing impaired 2.5 millions according to the report of United Nations. Turkish Natural Federation of the Deaf is reporting the number almost 3 millions. For Turkey, total number of disabled is 8.5 millions. so it is clear that the number of the hearing and speech impaired is too much in our country. Social arrangement is must for the hearing impaired and the numbers are proof for that. This Project is a youth change Project planned with attendance of the 42 youths from 7 countries. All designs and contents of the Project are tried to prepare according to youth change program in the Erasmus+ program. Activities which is in the Project Schedule are going to perform 1-8 September in Mersin, a city of T Turkey. Sweden, Lithuania, Hungary, Macedonia, Poland, Slovakia and Turkey are the countries planned to join. The partners are responsible for contributing to each stage of the Project and doing studies about maintainability and dissemination. Besides they are responsible for developing with sharing the fine applications. It is expected that this Project will affect each category of society. Sharing of good practices is the first effect of the Project in the participant institutions and organizations. The youths representing their organisation are going to see the studies about the handicapped with foreign youths and contribute their own institution about the topic. Communication network is going to be formed among the institutions. The institutions studying together for the first time can go on to develop their partnership after the association. Attendants whose skills improve can contribute to participant institutions as more successful volunteer. There are individuals from each opinion, social economic level, field of occupation in focus group of the Project. But fundamentally, youths and the handicapped are the basic focus group of the Project. Disability is not a problem for being a part of the society and the main solution for this point is being awareness. It is expected that this is understood better by the group. It is possible that target group will study more sensitive and more informed about topics for the handicapped.

Project Summary

The project revived as Katilimci Kadınlar Toplulugu (the Community of Participatory Women) thought of stepping in a more professional, participatory and international sense. Having realized that the European projects are the most efficient way to achieve our aim, we put our works into a project. Even though there exists a very large field of disadvantageousness in terms of women's rights, our community chose ""Women's Participation in Democratic Life"". For, democratic participation and active citizenship lie at the bottom of protecting women's rights. 20 participants from Estonia, Hungary, Portugal and Turkey joined the project and each country was represented by 5 participants. In the project, there were high school and university students, the ones who have just had their jobs, some managers in any line of work and adolescents with social awareness.

Our participants were given seminars on the subjects of ""women's participation in democratic life"", ""active citizenship"", ""social visibility of women"" and ""women as decision-makers"".

Besides, in order to be able to have a different perspective on subject and find solutions concerning it, the participants had discussions, simulations, animations, outdoor events, clip and documentary footages in groups. The project was effective in terms of increasing the awareness of young people regarding women's rights, and encouraging women to use their democratic rights. It had an impact on women's being decision-makers and making women visible by preventing social invisibility. Additionally, thanks to the project, the participants reinforced their values like democracy, friendship and solidarity by recognizing new cultures, habits and life styles.

Project Summary

Environment problem which is one of the main problems of World and Europe is a threatening situation for an unhealthy environment and daily life. Billions of people in World and millions of people in Europe suffer from the same situation. Environment is a human right if we consider the living in healthy environment, the benefit from main nature services are the most natural right. In our country almost any individual has no awareness that they have a right to say something on environmental decisions which concern themselves and to attend the decisions. We encounter many examples in many regions.

With this education course 32 young from 4 countries will attend a youth exchange as a result of using environment as learning means and theme by using participant approach, involvement, and dynamisms of young for this process. As we see in activities, we will try to reach our plans that (STK Visits, outdoor activities, peer education model, workshops etc.) create awareness, improve international collaboration, inform much more people with multiplier effect, make them more active citizenship, contribute on making them internalize the learning and learning process by using various methods.
